

PROGRESSION OF S4 ETHICS class

	Subjects	Objectives
September	The danger of sects
October		The aim of the non-denominational ethics course is to provide a moral education based on free thought which is not subject to any particular philosophical reference. This course is therefore open to all pupils, with the objective of teaching them through open discussion : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to search for coherent and lucid answers with rigorous respect for facts and rational ideas - to take a personal, responsible stance leading them to be self-sufficient and receptive - to develop a genuine moral code based on tolerance which includes being able to challenge oneself
November	The right to be different → Differences of culture ; different religions; different economic systems; different political systems; toleration and its limits
December
January	Reason and the irrational
February	Dogmatism and the search for truth
March	Faith, agnosticism, atheism
April
May	Laicity
June	Freedom of thought	